One Hundred Thousand Cures, AND NOT A SINGLE FAILURE!

Green's Aque and Fever Mixture Warranted to cure the Aque and Fever, or Chills and Fever, in every case where the directions are followed, without the aid of any other Medicine.

I have purchased the exclusive right to the manufacture and sale of this remedy, and cheerfully offer it to the public at large, as near specific for Aque and Fever than any other medicine known.

READ HOME TESTIMONY.
NEAR LEXINGTON, MISS., June 10th, '59.
Messrs. Cassell & Baughn, Canton, Miss., GENTS:—I deem it due to you and the public, to say a word in favor of your GREEN'S AQUE AND FEVER MIXTURE. Last fall, I bought a bottle from you, and cured twelve cases of Aque and Fever with it, and have used only half the bottle. In one of the above-mentioned cases, I had used quinine and every other remedy I could hear of, without success. It never failed in any case. Respectfully, S. B. HARRIS.

This certifies that I suffered from Aque and Fever for eight years, during which time I tried every medicine I could hear of, without any permanent benefit, until I obtained Green's Aque and Fever Mixture, which entirely cured me.
September, 1858. WM. MILLER.

Messrs. CASSELL & BAUGHN: I have used Green's Aque and Fever Mixture in my family with unfeigned success, and would recommend it in preference to any other Medicine for Fever and Aque. One bottle cured four cases.
September 20, 1858. A. W. CLARK.

To those afflicted with Chills and Fever, and who say by all means use Green's Aque and Fever Mixture. It has never failed to cure the above disease in my family.
September, 1858. ELIJAH YOUNG.

I have used two bottles of Green's Aque and Fever Mixture in my family with uniform success, and believe it to be an excellent remedy.
October, 1858. W. P. ANDERSON.

For sale by COMPTON & THOMAS, Yazoo City,
And by the proprietors, CASSELL & BAUGHN, Canton.

—ALSO—
GREEN'S CARMINATIVE SYRUP, OR, DIARRHOEA MIXTURE!

A speedy, safe and effectual remedy for Diarrhoea, Dysentery, Cholera Infantum, or Summer Complaint of Children, Cholera Morbus, and any, or all, Irregularities of the Bowels.

Travelers should always have a supply of this Syrup with them, to counteract the derangement of the Bowels consequent on using a change of Water.

Every Family should keep this Syrup, and particularly in the summer time, when Fruits are abundant, and the bowels of Children frequently become deranged. It will be found efficacious in restoring them to their usual healthy action.

Hundreds of certificates might be obtained, establishing the value of this remedy in diseases of the bowels, one only of which we will insert. Read the following from O. A. Luckett, Esq., an eminent Lawyer, and highly respectable citizen of Canton, Miss.

"This certifies that I have used Green's Car-minative or Diarrhoea Mixture in my family for several years with perfect success, and confidently recommend it to the public, as the best remedy known for Diarrhoea and similar diseases of the Bowels. It is especially adapted to the summer complaints of children, who take it readily, and are fond of it."
"Canton, Sept. 29, '58."

THE subscriber informs the public that he has I become the proprietor of the MANSION HOUSE, in Yazoo City, and that it is now open under his immediate superintendence for the reception and accommodation of travelers, visitors and boarders. The building has been overhauled, cleansed and repaired from cellar to garret, and the chambers thoroughly aired, scoured, fitted and refurnished. The facilities for accommodation at this house have been greatly increased by the recent erection of a wing to the main building, in which are ten large and spacious sleeping Apartments.
THE DINING ROOM and TABLE will receive the particular care and attention of the Proprietor.

None but the most competent, obedient and careful Servants will be employed.
The Table will be furnished with every substantial and delicacy that can be obtained, and no effort nor expense spared to render guests comfortable and contented.

ASKING TO BE LET ALONE IS NOT AGITA-TION.

We find men, both North and South, still deploring the agitation of the slavery question, and proclaiming that it must be put down. There is no agitation in the South.
All that our people ask is to be let alone!
The North has not only trampled on our Constitutional rights, armed and equipped with a thousand spears, to be put into the hands of a servile race, to cut the throats of men, women and children. Southern men—citizens of Virginia—the State that gave birth to Washington—have been dragged from their beds and murdered like dogs on the way side, and when we complain of these wrongs and outrages we are called Agitators! Pray, what are we agitating? Why, simply, whether or not we had better submit or contend for our Constitutional rights—whether we had better give up all as lost or contend for honor. The South cannot yield—the North can. In the North slavery is but an abstract question, whilst in the South it is a practical one. We have about fifteen hundred millions of dollars vested in this kind of property for agricultural purposes, &c. Cotton is the great staple of the South—yes, it is the "Samson's hair of America"—and the market price for this staple regulates the price of all Southern and Western products, and also the value of the stock upon your farms. When we bear in mind that the people of the North are the beneficiaries of this great staple, produced by slave labor, and for the cultivation of which no other is well suited, their prejudice and aggressive policy can only be attributed to the blindest fanaticism, or a total disregard of the al-ligiance which they owe to the Federal Constitution.

The South would be able to prosper out of the Union quite as well as the North, if not better. The South is less dependent upon the North than the North is upon the South. What could the North do without the market of the South? For half a century we have been building up their marts and commerce by resources and trade from the South. We even buy our iron North, whilst our own mines are burdened with this valuable and indispensable mineral—The people of the North will lose nothing if the North forces her out of the Union.

We know not what destiny awaits the South, but this we do know, that we are for the South. In times like these we have but one motto, and that is Deatour's—

"My country: may she always be right; but, right or wrong, my country."

If the South is right in resisting aggression, and should insist on "equality in the Union or independence out of it," we side with her; if wrong, still we cling to the South: "whichever thou goest I will go; and where thou lodgest I will lodge; thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God."

THE SPEAKERS.
The "Occasional" correspondent of the Philadelphia Press, says:

The speaker of the first American Congress was a Pennsylvanian—Frederick A.
Muhlenberg—and he was re-elected to that post in the third Congress. He was succeeded by Johnathan Dayton, of New Jersey, the ancestor of the present Hon. Wm.
L. Dayton, of that State, who remained in the chair for four years. Then came Geo.
Dent, of Maryland, in the 5th; Theodore Sedgwick, of Massachusetts, in the 6th; Nathaniel Macon, of North Carolina, in the seventh, eighth and ninth; Joseph V. Varnum, of Massachusetts, in the 10th and 11th, and then Henry Clay. Mr. Clay was a model speaker of the House. He began in that capacity when just thirty-four years of age, and served in all about ten years. He occupied the chair (except during part of the Thirteenth Congress—when Langdon Cheves was chosen to fill the vacancy occasioned by Mr. Clay's resignation on his appointment to act as one of the commissioners to arrange the treaty of Ghent, and during his absence in the second session of the Sixteenth and the Seventeenth Congress,) until March 3d, 1825.

After Mr. Clay came John W. Taylor, of New York, in the Nineteenth Congress, and Andrew Stevenson, of Virginia, in the Twentieth, Twenty-first, Twenty-second, and part of the Twenty-third; John Bell, of Tennessee, in the Twenty-fourth, and James K. Polk, of the same State, in the Twenty-fifth and Twenty-sixth. Mr. Polk was regarded as only second to Mr. Clay. His prominence and integrity, his impartiality and his courage, endeared him to men of all parties during the most excited period in which he acted, and no doubt, made him prominent for the Presidency, which position he attained in a few years after his retirement from Congress. He was succeeded in the Twenty-seventh Congress, by Robert M. Hunter, of Virginia, who was elected after a severe struggle, as a Whig. Following Mr. Hunter came John White, of Kentucky, in the Twenty-eighth Congress, and in the extra session which ensued, John W.
Jones, of Virginia. John W. Davis, of Indiana, presided over the Twenty-ninth Congress; Robert C. Winthrop, of Massachusetts, over the Thirtieth; Howell Cobb, of Georgia, over the Thirty-first; Lynn Boyd, of Kentucky, over the Thirty-second; Nathaniel P. Banks, of Massachusetts, over the Thirty-third, and James L. Orr, of S.
Carolina, over the Thirty-fourth.

The corpse of John Brown arrived in New York on Saturday evening, the 3d inst., and was taken in charge by some friends, by whom, on Monday, it was conveyed to Albany. While in New York it lay in state in the Bowery, and was exhibited to a number of citizens favorable to the Brown and Helper programme.

MUSIC.

Music, with its spirit tones Wanders every where,
Floating on the ocean wave, Sighting in the air.
The brooklet of the greenwood Has its little song,
For nodding bells of flowers,
As it leaps along.

Music, from the lofty pines,
In deep under-tones, Sweeps down the long drawn aisles Of temples, nature owns.
And music lifts the aspen's Gleaming, quivering leaves;
The storm king comes in music,
And the tempest grieves.

All nature lives in music, Cradled in the earth.
In lullabies of birdlings, Songs of summer birth.
All steeped in varying music
Are the passing years.
And still above in music Roll the solemn spheres.

And like the rainbow reaching From valley to the skies, It bridges earth and Heaven,
With peace, and with sighs;
Oh! gently let it lift us,
By its subtle spells,
To those realms so blissful Where spirit-music dwells.

ROYAL WEDDINGS IN PROSPECT.—The Liverpool Mercury says:

Reports are current as to the approaching double matrimonial connections between the royal families of Prussia and Holland, which will tend still further to increase the intimacy which already subsists between them. The first that is spoken of is the marriage of the Prince of Orange and the Princess Alexandrine, daughter of His Royal Highness Prince Albert of Prussia. The princess has frequently been referred to as the probable future consort of the Prince of Wales, but it would appear that other arrangements are now thought of as to the future Queen of England. The second marriage, which is now the subject of speculation in court circles at Berlin, is that of the son of Prince Albert of Prussia with the daughter of His Royal Highness Prince Frederick of the Netherlands.

Mr. Gowen, the American contractor for removing the obstructions from Sebastopol harbor, has now finished his work with the outer line of sunken vessels, so that they do not obstruct navigation. The large frigate Vladimir, was successfully raised October 14th.

DISUNION.

The disunion sentiment prevails in Virginia to a considerable extent since the Brown excitement. The most conservative have been forced to become fire-eaters, whom they have denounced as plotters against the Government. Even the Richmond Whig has ceased to abuse that class of politicians called extremists, and instead of counseling, as it did a few weeks since, a coalition of all the elements opposed to the Democracy to defeat it in the organization of the next Congress, it now repudiates any sympathy with the Republicans, even for the spoils, and will hoist the Southern flag alone for shelter. The Republican of Savannah even thinks a good drubbing would do the aboli-tionists good. When these old fogy, conservative, union-loving journals speak out so boldly, the States Rights party may know that the last barrier to a united South upon the basis of true independence is being broken down. The mother of the States, the Union, has graduated her children, married them off, and the old roof being too small for all, a common interest would seem to demand a separation to prevent disputes and open the way to wealth and prosperity.
[Columbus (Ga.) Times.]

DEMOCRATIC MEETING IN DeSOTO.—A meeting of the Democracy of DeSoto was held at Hernando, on Monday, the 5th inst.
The Hon. Mr. Clapp made an eloquent speech in advocacy of Southern Rights and Southern honor. He was followed by Hon. Tom.
Harrison, of Holly Springs, in an able and convincing address, taking strong Southern grounds. No resolutions were passed.— Delegates were appointed to attend the State Convention, which meets in this city next Monday. Among the delegates, we notice the names of two members of the Legislature from that county. Hon. Jas. D. Ruffin and J. C. Culbertson, and such other gallant Southern spirits as Jas. R. Chalmers, F. Laboure, Jas. E. Mathews, V. H. Merri-weather, and others.

In place of resolutions, a fine Military company was fully organized. A good course.

GEN. STARKE'S AMENDMENTS TO THE FEDERAL RESOLUTIONS.—We stated in a letter from Jackson, a few days ago, that Gen. Starke, the Senator from Bolivar, had offered amendments to the resolutions on federal relations, already published by us.—
The following are his amendments: Resolved, That the resolutions be recommended to the Committee on State and Federal Relations, with instructions to amend the first resolution so as to declare it to be the duty of Congress to pass necessary laws for the protection of slave property in the Territories of the United States.

Also, to amend the second resolution so as to declare the election of a Northern sectional candidate to the Presidency, will justify the Southern States, and make it their duty to dissolve all connection with the Northern States, and to establish a Southern confederacy.

THE BANNER TO STAND OR DIE BY.— Under this head, the infamous book of Helper, endorsed by the Governor of New York and sixty-eight members of Congress, merchants, manufacturers, &c., has this among its recommendations:

"No patronage to pro-slavery
